SHINGLE GIVES 'WATER PARTY' FOR OFFICIALS

Mayor Lane, Supervisors and Others Get Insight Into Honolulu's Supply Problem

Robert W. Shingle last night entertained the mayor and supervisors at his residence on Makiki street, with the special purpose of hearing Arthur C. Alexander's paper on the water supply of Honolulu, originally delivered before the Social Science Association.

Others present were City and County Engineer L. M. Whitehouse, Water Works Superintendent Harry E. Murray, John T. McCrosson, Jorgen Jorgensen, J. N. S. Williams, Senator D. E. Metzger, City and County Treasurer Conkling, F. W. Macfarlane, Walter Macfarlane and William Lucas.

Mr. Alexander's paper dealt with the water works and the supply of the past, present and future in a most comprehensive manner. It was illustrated with many maps and diagrams shown on the wall of the lanai.

There was a short but lively discussion at the close. Mr. Alexander proposed, as the first improvement to be made, the impounding by intercepting ditches of the water that should go into the big reservoir, No. 4, but which is now largely wasted. This is the work for which Engineer Whitehouse is now preparing the plans and specifications, the cost of the improvement to come out of the loan fund.

There was a unanimous wish expressed that the paper of Mr. Alexander be printed. This, it is reported, the Social Science Association intends to have done.

After the discussion the guests were treated to a fine layout of refreshments in the dining room, Mrs. Shingle doing the chief honors, aided by Mrs. Walter Macfarlane.

Mr. Jorgensen invited the mayor and supervisors to visit the Waihole tunnel works, and arrangements were made this morning for making the trip on Monday.

WARNING FINES FOR NINETEEN AUTO SPEEDERS

It was bargain day for auto speeders at district court today. Nineteen victims drawn into police dragnets spread for them in various parts of the city left the lower court this morning after paying a fine of $5 and $1 costs.

Sheriff Rose despatched officers over devious and unheralded routes in making arrests yesterday afternoon. The greatest complaint came from pupils and teachers at the public schools where it is said automobile drivers and public chauffeurs pass the buildings at a high rate of speed. A new ordinance specifies that a machine must not pass a school house at a speed greater than 10 miles an hour.

Officers Chilton, Ferry, Hustace and Gomes caught a score in a flagrant violation of the law. The following pleaded guilty and were fined this morning: Y. Wada, N. Nelson, John Lippert, Joe Silva, T. Ohara, L. V. Roberts, Bennet Lovell, R. M. Cutts, C. W. Hammond, Sam Koko, Ah Look, D. L. Donason, J. G. Pregil, R. J. Borges, Richard Keola, Ed Searle, Enos Fernandez, Geo. Yamada, B. B. Kas-kue.

SHARKS DEVOUR PART OF BODY OF MAUI JAPANESE

Miyamoto Susakichi, a Japanese, was either killed by sharks or drowned and then partly devoured by them Thursday morning in the sea below the cliff at Hana, Maui, on which the Catholic church stands.

Susakichi's partly devoured body was found lodged among the rocks at the foot of the cliff late Thursday afternoon. One arm and one leg had been wrenched from the body of the deceased, who was 60 years of age, and had been employed as a stableman for Supervisor R. A. Drummond. He is survived by a family, living near Hana.

The dead man's hat was found on a ledge of the cliff near the church and it is supposed he fell into the shark-infested waters while trying to recover his headgear.

START FUND FOR PRESERVATION OF HIBISCUS GARDEN

average resident of Honolulu; still more to the tourist.

Now, thanks both to the public spirit of certain citizens and to the active interest and labor of those connected with the experiment station, Honolulu has a collection of hibiscus embracing thousands of new and beautiful tints and forms, all open and free to the general public.

This collection is unique in the true sense of that much-abused word. There is nothing like it anywhere else in the world. These wonderful flowers have been actually created here in Honolulu within the last three or four years and every year adds to their bewildering variety and beauty. They should be one of the strongest assets that the city possesses among its tourist attractions.

Yet how many tourists so much as know the existence of this garden or of the varieties of blossoms that crowd it? So far from seeking to preserve this unique attraction, advertising it, and directing tourists to it, we are now informed that the territory does not even think it worth while to maintain what is already established but has withdrawn its support and would leave to perish a thousand forms of beauty absolutely without their like elsewhere in the world!

The statement has been published on the authority of Mr. Gerrit Wilder that the sum of $700 would be sufficient to insure the preservation of the hibiscus thicket at the experiment station for one year. We enclose a check to the Star-Bulletin for $10 and hope that we may be the first of 70 to contribute a like sum towards the preservation of this valuable garden from immediate destruction and loss. We are confident that the Star-Bulletin will gladly receive and care for any contributions that may be forwarded for this purpose and would suggest that immediate action is to be desired.

This is only a temporary measure.

MOVE HIBISCUS THICKET OUT TO KAPIOLANI PARK

The hibiscus exhibit now at the federal experiment station which has been threatened with destruction because of the lack of a territorial appropriation for its upkeep, is to be removed to Kapiolani Park where there is plenty of water for irrigation, and where the city can care for the bushes with little or no expense.

This step was decided upon at the meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday afternoon. Supervisor Holinger offered the motion, and it was presumed that he had the money in sight for the maintenance of the hibiscus. It was estimated that $700 a year, the wages of two laborers, would keep the hibiscus exhibit for a tourist attraction.

Plans for Pineapple Day, November 23, are being considered by Ed Towse and Acting Secretary Taylor. The same plans of last year will be followed with new features added.

The offer of the Paradise Tours Company to take over for a stipulated sum the mainland work of the Promotion Committee was referred to the finance committee for investigation.

A decree granting the adoption of John Kupahu, a minor, by Charles Kupahu and Henrietta Kupahu, his wife, was issued by Circuit Judge William L. Whitney today. In their petition the husband and wife allege that the boy's mother, one Ah Mol, gave the child to them on July 7, 1914, and that since that time the mother has abandoned the child.

Trial of the damage suit of Carl On Tai et al against D. Kellikuli was continued in Circuit Judge Stuart's court today.

although an urgent one, and it is strongly to be hoped that during the current year measures may be devised and taken to put this matter of a public hibiscus garden or park on a permanent basis.
